PROJECTS

Diabetes Detector Web Model — Full Stack Website including Machine Learning Model.

This website contains user account information and by login or signing into the website, the user can check his/her diabetes probability. I built this website using HTML, CSS and JavaScript and for the machine learning model, I have used 'Python' and for prediction purposes I have used 'Support Vector Machine'. I have used phpMySQL for database purpose.

Running Dinosaur Game - a fully Dynamic game

This game is fully responsive and dynamic. In this game, user has to survive from dinosaur attack and for that user can move right, left and can also jump. I made this website using pure HTML, CSS and JavaScript.

Spotify Clone - a web music application

It is a clone of very famous music application 'Spotify' in which user can login or signup and listen various songs. The user can also high or low the volume and can change the song while current one is already running. This web application is built using PHP, HTML, CSS and JavaScript and for database purpose I have used phpMySQL.
